

Allan McRAE & Augusta Berthe (Bertha) McRAE, nee SCHULTZ

Biography as published in 1995

Allan McRae was born 16/11/1856 at Milang, SA.

Parents : Mary McRae (nee McLean) & Duncan McRae

Grandparents Christina McLean (nee McPhee) & Donald McLean:

HISTORY: from their daughter Minna.

"Before his marriage Allan carted wool with a bullock team from outlying stations into Port Augusta (S.A.) where he met and married Bertha Schultz whose parents had a store at Wilmington. Following the wedding at the Wesleyan Church they had their honeymoon on board a wool boat going from Port Augusta to Port Adelaide and from there travelled to Allan's home town of Milang where he was able to buy the hotel as he had made a lot of money in the North.

The first three children were born at Strathalbyn (probably at the senior McRae's house as they had by then retired from Milang.) Allan did very well in the hotel trade but became immersed in horse racing. He had the "Commercial" Hotel in High Street Strathalbyn 1882 – 1867 having sold out at Milang where he had realised that he was living "beyond his means".

Note: Dates in old records seldom "Add up". The photograph of Allan standing before the corner doorway of the "Commercial" clearly has his name painted above and the caption in the Nancy Gemmell book of the town states that the picture was taken before the present day balcony was added in 1881. Also, the register of hotel licensees at the State Library records Allan as there up to 1890 so Minna's list with Percy being born at Sellick's Hill must be an error. The two youngest were definitely born at Sellick's Hill.

Minna went on that her father continued there in the hotel business hoping to escape the wealthy social and racing crowd with whom he had first associated at Milang but which followed him to Strathalbyn. At Strathalbyn the hotel had been the centre of a number of activities, an annual foot race which started out from the "Commercial" and ended there with a dinner following and other events and always the social crowd from Adelaide.

Up until 1902 Allan had the hotel at Old Noarlunga which until 1880 had been called "The Jolly Miller" and thereafter just the Noarlunga Hotel though locally it was referred to as "The Shoe". Here they did very well and catered for overnight guests and dinners and it became a fashionable place with the Adelaide crowd flocking back. From Noarlunga the McRaes moved on to an even more fashionable hotel, the "Victoria" at Tapleys Hill and had land around it where Allan and his son Boyce kept race horses. The children grew up in a very well-to-do atmosphere.

DEATH: of Allan McRae aged 49 years of pneumonia on 23/11/1905 at Tapleys Hill and was buried at the O'Halloran Hill Cemetery.

The licence of the "Victoria" remained in his name from 1903 - 1907 but following his death his wife Bertha and daughter Minna ran it and the licence was only changed to Bertha's name 1908 - 1915. Their fortunes dwindled as the son Boyce was only interested in race horses and racing in general and he ran up huge stock bills which his mother had to pay. She was much too easy going and the business side of the hotel suffered and the trade became too much for her.

DEATH: of Bertha McRae aged 54 years on 16/7/1915. Inten'ed with Allan at the O'Halloran Hill Cemetery.

- COLONIALISTS : Christina and Donald McLean and their ten children migrated from Argyllshire to South Australia in 1837. This was in the earliest years of the colony. The McLeans initially settled near Adelaide where they grew the first wheat crop in SA. Then in about 1840 they pioneered the Strathalbyn area. There are now well over 20,000 descendants spread across Australia and elsewhere.
