I refer to phone call to you from my brother, Mr. Jack McLean, of Milang, South Australia on 14th inst.

I desire a quotation to print in a book, sewn and gummed in sections to book spine, and enclosed in conventional hard cover.

It is to be finished in an attractive color (say red). It will comprise about 700 pages (350 sheets of paper) subject to 10% variation, and including newspaper extracts, wills, selected original material, cartoons, etc. These extraneous items are not computer produced and are "one off" material.

All of this material will be submitted, fully edited and corrected, ready for printing on A4 computer hard copy, accompanied by IBM compatible diskettes using Microsoft word for windows Version 6. Diskettes will only be supplied if requested by you.

In addition to the above, I have about 80 pages (40 sheets of paper) of photographs, professionally produced in black and white, sub-titled for inclusion in the book. These to be reproduced by you from our submitted masters, which will bear numbers in the total manuscript numbering. Reaching about 780 in number total or thereabouts.

In addition there is an INDEX of about 40 pages of A4, computer produced as in paragraph 4.

An exception (but included in the 780 pages previously referred to) is about 170 pages taken from a family book, which was produced by Wimmera Mail-Times, Horsham, Victoria, Australia, including index at rear of that section.

This is a standard printer's job and is to be reprinted "as is" standard A4 size, includes a lot of photographs in black and white which will reproduce normally.

ALLAN McLEAN

- (1) ALLAN McLEAN
(1811 - 1890)
- Allan McLean was the eldest descendant and son of Donald & Christina McLean (nee McPhee), being baptised on 12/2/1811 at Killmarlie, Argyllshire, as the first child of Donald & Christina McLean, of Duisky Estate, Argyllshire.

He was aged 26 years when he left Scotland by the "Navarino" for South Australia, although the passenger list shows 23 years. It has already been explained that ages were altered to get free passage. In the 1946 reminiscences of his nephew, Edwin, Allan had told him when he was a boy, that once "at Lochaber" Allan had won the annual race round the town after a fortnight of bread and cheese. But, as there is no town of Lochaber, only a district in Inverness with Ben Nevis, the town must have been Fort William.

The arrival in S.A. with his parents and all the family was on 6/12/1837. See his father's history for his early activities, the growing of the first crop of wheat in S.A. in 1838, and then land purchases at Strathalbyn and Angas Plains. At Strathalbyn his sections adjoined his father's "Auchanada's" where he established "Meadow Bank", on the outskirts of the town and north east. In 1855 he inherited part of Donald's section 2603.

Marriage: To Catherine Dawson - (born 1825, some authorities say Glasgow in 1825, but most at Teheran, Persia, (now Tehran, Iran), the eldest daughter of Colonel James Dawson and his wife, nee Jane Hamilton. The latter, with her children came to join her husband already in S.A. by the "Fairfield" with the Rankines, arriving 30/4/1839.

The Colonel's colourful history is in Nancy Gemmell's book, "Old Strathalbyn", and how he founded the town, Strathalbyn, with William Rankine. The marriage was an elopement as had been that of the Colonel. However, the witnesses on 22/9/1844 at the "Wheatsheaf Inn", Mt. Barker, were Donald Gollan, a leading townsman and her sister, Jane.

The only mention of Allan in the Matthew Rankine diaries were 6/11/1855 - Mr McLean asked to be a member of the newly formed Agricultural Bureau - 17th. Matthew rode Polly to Strathalbyn, called on A. McLean and at Cheriton's to tell them of the meeting. On the 28th. "Large fires up behind Allan McLean's" - 3 years later on 16/2/1858 he called on Mr. McLean, who had a two-wheeled plough. Matthew seemed envious.

Ewen McDonald mentioned Allan only a few times in the surviving diaries. On 12/1/1864 called on A. McLean (at Strathalbyn) - the sole mention of Allan that year. On 6/6/1865 he wrote: "Mr. Allan McLean in opening a cow he slaughtered found in it a calf with 6 legs to fore and 4 hinder and two on each side. Ill omen would they say back home in Scotland".

Allan was aged 30 years when he married, and Catherine was 19. At "Meadowbank", their children were born, the daughters married and grand children were born there too.

When Allan sold up in 1878 to "go north" - "Meadow Bank" was described in the advertisement as "near the Swamp" and that it had 9 rooms, well and appliances, sheep dip, drying pens, and fencing.

This advertisement on 23/5/1878 listed: 14 heavy draught horses, 4 yearling fillies, 40 head of cattle, 19 milking cows, 30 pigs and a boar, two Mellor reaping machines, 2 Ramsay reapers, horse rake, double furrow plough, 2 sets of harrows, land roller, swingle-trees, horse drays, 4 horse power chaff cutter and horse works complete, weighing machine, aquantity of bags, spades, picks, shovels, forks, and sundries.

From the house: 2 sewing machines (these would have been those turned by hand), piano, an excellent instrument especially made for hot climates - two cedar tables, two cedar chairs, two cedar back sofas, two easy chairs, one cedar wardrobe, one deal ditto, two iron bedsteads, two cedar wash stands, two cedar dressing tables, three forms, two strong kitchen tables, crockery, and kitchen requisites of all kinds.

Back to the farm: 60 tons of 1st class hay in stacks, stack of straw, 25 bags of very good seed wheat, and a bag of flour. Dairy: Iron lever press, 10 vats, 26 milk pans, 10 casks, 6 jars, cheese mill, tubs, buckets, pump, piping, heaps of manure and an immense quantity of sundries.

It was then still the custom to sell up completely when moving, and these "clearing sales" welcomed by the community. One wonders what treasured items a wife was forced to part with. It was not until the turn of the century that people took their goods and chattels with them, as a matter of course when shifting.

The land which Allan offered for sale - Sections 2610, 2691, 2695, 2621/22 and part Section 2603 (where Auchananda's had been built by his father), 2632 & 2624. The "Southern Argus" later stated that 174 acres sold at £11/-/- ($22.00) per acre, which was regarded as excellent.

Allan's new property in the north of S.A. was "Lochaber", Willowie, 20 miles north of Booleroo Centre as shown in the 1882 Directory. Unfortunately he struck poor seasons & was forced to give up the new venture. He returned to stay with his brother John at "Waterloo", Angas Plains for a time. This was the 1886-87 period. His wife Catherine had inherited Section 2617, west of Strathalbyn, from her mother Jane Dawson in 1885. It was to become the site of the old sale yards & now the road to Goolwa bisects it. There Catherine planted a crop which was reaped with an old stripper & horses by Allan & a nephew Alfred McLean aged 15 (a son of John).

Therefore in 1886 Allan did build some rooms there for them to live in. The misfortunes of his northern attempt after years of plenty at "Meadow Bank" caused his health to fail. He and Catherine seem to have gone to their daughter Mrs. Haldane at Adelaide who had been widowed in 1888.

attention: David Pergallini

Dear Sir,

I refer to Mr Pergallini's telephone call to me today concerning the production of a history book ~~entitled~~ "DONALD & CHRISTINA McLEAN" First Wheap Crop Growers in South Australia

We are considering a 500 quantity book at present, measuring approx 170 mm across & 245 mm deep. It will contain 500 to 550 pages of the enclosed sample, it may be less by your printing. About 40 to 50 pages of photographs, black and white.

Front and back outside coloured with at present unselected subject, but relating to our family.

Also submit a quote for 1000 with Book Bounty quoted.

The above details are approximate at this stage, but close (we think) to our requirements.

I would like to see a sample of your production with a book as ~~assenon~~ as possible.

Enclosed is a sample of one chapter, but several are about 100 pages each - this is the copy manuscript we would be submitting - subject to any amendments.

Yours sincerely

HONORARY SECRETARY

21/3/93 It is over a month since circulated N/K No 8 on which I asked for indication of pre-ordered ABC mean makes at $30. Since then we've had Gillinghams refusing to take $12510 for 1000 books.
 So selling 417 books @ $30 would clear the printer exactly but there may be some extra

Then there is organizational costs over Jack 346.50 for stamped envelopes, I am owed $200 - $300 for sundry things over last couple years, I've paid $200.00 for printer on computer & owe $400 for the computer to David Barton Meadows but Fiona or Lenor will buy the lot for $600 so there is no problem there. Now paid $600.00 BY US

There will be another newsletter to go out later in 1993 but this can be selective with people like Wanda & Jonasson give 2000 copies to distribute also Dacie Lessons, Val Nas, Allan Peale, Clara Lode's daughter W. A. Dianne

I'm not sure we're going to sell near 1000 books but should get 500 - I may be wrong perhaps all all multiples up when book
